11. During the term of this Contract only the Employer avails of the disposal right of the Employee's right to play, which disposal right also covers the temporary (lending) or final pass-through or transfer of the player against remuneration to other sports organization, supposing that the Employee has given preliminary contribution to this.
12. If the Employee contests the opinion of the physical appointed by the Employer, he has the right of a second opinion by an independent medical specialist. If there are differences in the medical opinions, or the opinions of the experts differ, the parties agree on an independent third opinion, which will be binding.

III. TERM OF EMPLOYMENT

13. The employment relationship is established by the Parties for a definite period of time defined in the Personal Conditions.
14. The commencement date of the Employee's work is the day defined in the Personal Conditions.

IV. REMUNERATION OF WORK

15. The Employer is paying wage to the Employee. The Employer shall pay the Employee's personal base wage until the date of the month following the given month defined in the Personal Conditions – but the latest until the 20th day of the month – by bank transfer, the size of which wage is also determined in the Personal Conditions composing part of the Employment Contract.
16. The Parties agree that if the sport club drops out of the division where it participated at the time of the contract conclusion, the personal basic salary of the Employee can be reduced by the Employer with the percentage determined in the Personal Conditions – but by maximum 50 % – with the condition that if the basic salary reduction exceeds 30% of the original basic salary, the Employee may avail of the right of immediate termination of the contract.
17. On the basis of authorization granted by (1) of Article 145 of the Labour Code ( the Parties agree that the base wage of the Employee includes the supplements contained in Article 140-142 of the Labour Code, if they were due to the Employee.
18. The Employee specifically states that he intends to fulfill his tax and contribution paying obligations after the part of the remuneration due to him on the basis of the contract and exceeding the valid minimum wage according to the provisions of Act CXX of 2005 on the simplified contribution to public revenues (hereinafter: EKHO Law). The Employee is informed that after the part of the remuneration corresponding to the minimum wage both himself – as Employee – and the Employer are paying obligations according to the general tax and contribution payment rules, and concerning the part exceeding the minimum wage the Employee shall pay 15% and the Employer 20% tax and contribution according to the cited statutory provisions. This statement of the Employee is valid until withdrawal, or until the occurrence of statutory exclusions.
19. By making a statement about payment of taxes and contributions on the basis of EKHO Law the Employee acknowledges that based on the simplified contribution (ekho) paid by him he is entitled to social security services according to the content of Article 12 of the EKHO Law with the condition that the Employer shall provide the social security services in agreement with the Labour Code.
20. The Employer acknowledges the above statement of the Employee. Based on paragraph (1) of Article 10 of the EKHO Law the simplified contribution to public revenue charged to the Employer – determined and deducted from the Employee – shall be returned and paid by the Employer pursuant to the provisions of Act XCII of 2003 on the Rules of Taxation. The Employer declares that if the Employee suffers accident (workplace accident) in the course of his sports activities performed in the framework of employment contract, he shall pay the full wage to the Employee according to the contract in line with the provisions of the Labour Code, with the deduction of the social security amount paid to the Employee.

V. PLACE OF WORK

21. Place of work: administrative area of Hungary, within this mainly the current stadium, sports facilities of the Employer, sports facilities of other sports organizations, etc. with the condition that – due to the character of the job – the Employee is obliged to perform his work both within the country and on abroad according to the unilateral decision of the Employer, which can be on a place different from the headquarter and sites of the Employer.

VI. WORKING TIME, REST TIME, ALLOCATION OF VACATION

22. The Parties agree that the Employee shall work in time framework and in unequal working time. The Employee acknowledges that the Employer determines his working time in a six months' time frame, taking as a basis the 8 hours daily working time. Within the working time framework the professional management of the Employer has the right to distribute the work.
23. The Parties agree that the Employee may be employed on non-working days, too.
24. The Contracting Parties agree that time off is due in cases determined by sub-section (2) of § 143 of LC, which should be allocated he latest until the 31st day of December of the year following the current one. Otherwise in connection with the extraordinary working time the rules relating to the valid employment relationship are governing.
25. The Employer may allocate the rest days – partly or fully – every six months together to the Employee. Based on the guidelines of the head coach the Employer shall determine the regulations relating to the rest time in advance taking into account the valid legal regulations and the time schedule of the trainings, matches and other activities of the Employee.
26. The Employee is entitled to basic vacation in the number of days determined by the Labour Code and to extra vacation according to the regulations of Article 117 of the Labour Code which should be allocated by the Employer mainly in the period between the championship seasons and should let the Employee know it by min. 15 days prior to taking it. The Employee may ask for getting in two parts of max. 7 working days vacation by min. 15 days before the starting of vacation, what the Employer shall have to fulfill. When demanding the allocation of 4 working days vacation the Employee has to consider the Employer's interests, thus especially the dates of the first team training and match. The Employer shall allocate min. fourteen days holiday per year in one bloc.
27. The Parties express their intention that during the employment relationship they will agree in each calendar year that based on par. (6) of Article 123 of the Labour Code the Employer shall be entitled to allocate the extra vacation due to the Employee based on Article 117 of the Labour Code by the end of the year following the year when due.
28. For extremely important economic reasons and in the case of causes directly and seriously affecting the operation the Employer may modify the date of allocation of the vacation and may interrupt the already commenced vacation of the Employee.

VII. AVAILABILITY AND USE OF DEVICES

29. For the period of work the Employer may make available to the Employee sports equipment and sports or other devices needed to the performance of work. The Employee has full financial responsibility for these equipment and assets and shall use them for rightful purposes, shall preserve their condition and ensure their usability and shall return them to the Employer after the termination of the employment relationship. The Employee cannot be held responsible for amortization caused by natural wear and by proper use.

VIII. CONFIDENTIALITY

30. The provisions of the Employment agreement are strictly confidential. The Parties are not entitled to make public to any third parties the provisions and conditions of this employment contract (except if this is necessary to the fulfillment of statutory or administrative obligations or to the use of professional/financial consultancy, or if the other party has preliminarily contributed to it).
31. During the term of the employment contract the Parties may acquire confidential data or information which are regarded trade secrets. During the term of the employment contract, or after it the Parties are not entitled to transmit, make available to third parties information in connection with their activities and obtained in the framework of the employment, or to use them in any other way (either for their own purposes or for the purposes of a third party). This includes particularly, but not exclusively information about the different processes, business activities, sports professional work and business plans, budget, accounts and financial matters of the Employer (including any information on sportsmen, sports organizations, clients, customers, suppliers, the Employee or products) or any other information about which the Employee may rationally think that it is confidential information of the Employer except for the cases when the Employer has preliminarily granted written contribution to this. The above obligations of the Parties are valid for unlimited period of time.
32. The Employee shall keep in mind his privacy obligations within the organization of the Employer and also in the teams operated by the Employer, and is not entitled to transfer confidential information to other Employees and sportsmen, except if this is absolutely necessary to the fulfillment of his tasks.
33. The violation of the conditions contained in this Chapter VIII is regarded as material breach of obligations of the employment contract and may have the consequence of immediate termination of contract, furthermore the other party shall compensate the damages caused to the offended party.

IX. TERMINATION AND STOPPAGE OF EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP

34. The employment relationship terminates with the death of the Employee, with the dissolution without legal successor of the Employer by the end of the period of time determined by Chapter III of this Contract, furthermore in other cases specified by the Labour Code.
35. The employment relationship may be terminated by mutual agreement, by notice and by immediate notice according to the provisions of the Labour Code.
36. The Employer may terminate the employment relationship with notice
  - a) during the period of liquidation procedure, or
  - b) if the maintaining of employment relationship becomes impossible due to unavoidable external reason, or
  - c) if the Employer's team drops out of the division where it was at the time of the signing of the contract, or is excluded from it for any reasons, or does not earn its licence in the given championship for competing next year. The Employer is entitled to exercise his right for termination specified in this sub-point within 30 days after the last official match of the championship.

37. The Employee is entitled to terminate the employment relationship with notice in the following cases:

- a) with immediate effect, if the Employer's team drops out of the division where it was at the time of the signing the contract and the Employer unilaterally reduced the personal base wage of the Employee by more than 30% in line with those contained in point 16 of this contract; also if the Employer's team is for any reasons disqualified from the championship division in which it was at the time of the signing the contract, or if it does not get licence to starting next year, or if for any reasons (e.g. due to public debt, etc.) the sports organization cannot start (cannot enter), or based on its own decision it does not avail of the right to start in the championship, or does not enter into any championship, or enter into lower rank championship, than due to it. In cases mentioned in this sub-point the Employee can be immediately transferred and has right to play if he terminates the contract and this is proved to the Competition Directorate of MLSZ. The Employee is entitled to exercise his right for termination specified in this sub-point within 30 days after the last official match of the championship.
- b) if the maintenance of the employment relationship becomes impossible by unavoidable circumstances, or if it caused undue harm to the Employee.

38. The Employer or the Employee may terminate the employment relationship with immediate effect, if the other party breaches its obligations in connection with the employment contract intentionally, or with gross negligence and seriously or otherwise is showing a behaviour which makes the maintenance of the employment relationship impossible.

39. With respect to termination of contract with immediate effect the below listed cases are in particular serious breach of the employment contract obligations by the Employee, or are behaviours which make the maintenance of the employment relationship impossible:

- the breach by the Employee of obligations contained in Chapter II of the work contract, or specifically formulated by the employment contract;
- appearance for work or doing work in a condition under the effect of alcohol or other agent or doping substance that is harmful to the working ability and is confirmed by blood test or by other suitable method, as well as the refusal of blood or urine or other similar test;
- imposing final doping sentence on the Employee;
- starting investigation against the Employee, as suspect in connection with participation in illegal betting;
- proven consultation with the sports professionals or market competitors of the Employer or with their employees or representatives, which infringe the sports professional or business interests of the Employer, not including here the negotiations included in point 8. q) of this contract;
- impolite, disrespectful behaviour with the exerciser of human rights of the Employer or with other superiors, with the members of the professional staff, or with the players, fans, employees, representatives, business partners, supporters of the Employer, or other sports organization;
- unjustified absence without serious reasons from any matches, trainings, preparation programs, or other preliminarily defined events; the Employee may exempt himself from this with presenting proper certification;
- exercising negative influence on the working climate, and/or showing unfriendly behaviour which makes difficult or impossible the cooperation with the colleagues, especially if as a consequence of this the colleagues and the sport fellows express their complaint about the cooperation;

- committing illicit action suitable for the influencing of the match, attempt for such action or incitation to such action, or taking part or cooperation in such action without regard to the offense amount;
- the binding disqualification of the Employee from playing for more than 3 months or for more than 5 matches;
- the Employee returns from his vacation with a delay of more than 4 calendar days, or arrives for the winter or summer preparation with a delay of more than 4 calendar days; except if the reason for delay is external circumstances provingly unavoidable by the Employee;
- the sports federation withdraws the professional player licence of the Employee.

The Parties agree that with respect to the termination with immediate effect the non-fulfillment by the Employer of obligations formulated in sub-point 9.b) is regarded as material breach of important employment obligation. In this case the Employee may exercise the right for immediate termination of contract only after that the Employer is in min. 1,5 month (45 days) delay with the payment of the Employee's wage, and the Employee called upon the Employer to fulfill the contract within 15 (fifteen) days deadline and this date has expired without success.

X. APPLICATION OF OTHER LEGAL CONSEQUENCES

40. Based on authorization contained in paragraph (1) of the Article 56 of the Labour Code the Parties agree that in the event of guilty infringement of obligations by the Employee – in his sole scope of authority and at his own discretion, instead of the termination with immediate effect or before it –the following negative legal consequences can be applied by the Employer against him depending on the weight of the infringement:
- a) verbal or written warning;
  - b) sanction imposing financial loss (cash penalty) in the first case (up to 66% of monthly wage valid at the time of imposing the sanction);
  - c) sanction imposing financial loss (cash penalty) in repeated case within one year after the imposition of the first cash penalty, or any time after imposing the repeated cash penalty (up to 66% of monthly wage valid at the time of imposing the sanction).

The guilty breach of rules relating to the work of the Employee, or any behaviour qualified as such by the internal rules of the Employer, or behaviour or negligence regarded as infraction of discipline, or any behaviour or negligence which has adverse consequences in the internal rules of the Employer are regarded guilty infringement of obligations by the Employee.

41. By signing this employment contract the Employee – pursuant to point a) of sub-section (2) of the Article 161 of the Labour Code – allows for the Employer to deduct the cash penalty from his wage and/or from his other reimbursements in line with the regulations of the Policy and of other rules – up to 33% of the monthly personal wage of the Employee – every month.
42. The Parties confirm that in the application of adverse legal consequences their order is binding only with respect to sub-points b)-c) of the previous point, otherwise the Employer – in accordance with the relevant rules of the Employer makes a decision about giving a warning, or applying sanction imposing financial loss– after the assessment of all the circumstances of the case. The adverse legal consequence has to be formulated in writing and shall be justified, and the Employee has right of appeal against it, which can be exercised by submitting a lawsuit at the regionally competent administrative and labour court within 30 days from the date of being informed. The Employee expressly acknowledges being informed about the possible legal remedies.

XI. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

43. The Employee represents to have taken over the Policy and Disciplinary Regulations annexed to the employment contract, their content was communicated by the Employer, and was explained to him and the Employee accepts its content as mandatory for himself, as well as he also acquainted with the other regulations of the Employer which is confirmed by his signature.
44. The Employer informs the Employee that the Employer's rights are exercised by the superior named in the Personal Conditions with the stipulation that the head coach, the trainers and goal trainer, as well as the team doctor are also entitled to exercise the instruction giving and control rights.
45. The Employer represents that if the Employee is also studying besides work, he will provide all possible and available means, opportunities and conditions and will actively support him, supposing that this will not prevent him from work.
